TIDY UP YOUR COMPUTER SCREEN

If your hard disk's been sluggish lately, try putting Latrina in your PC. This lovable, fly-ridden character resides in a slime-filled toilet, which plugs into the keyboard port on your computer. Simply depress the handle on the palm-sized potty, and watch your worries flush away on your screen (with appropriate audio accompaniment).

We can just hear the calls to tech support: "Help! My toilet doesn't work with my modem!"
